Social Networking could be costing employers £130m a day!

In a recent news article published by the BBC, it is estimated that social networking sites are costing employers £130m a day in the UK alone. This is the equivalent of 233 million hours of work lost each month from time wasting. CensorNet is a quick and simple solution to this problem allowing you to take action, whether your policy is to block completely or allow such sites during non-working hours, such as lunchtimes.
